

Chardonnay: Pale yellow color. Scents of apricot, pear, lemon, and wet stone are tamed by crisp, austere acidity in the mouth. Flavors of peach, pear, and crème brulee, are layered amongst the rich, balanced, and lingering palate of this wine. All in all, this wine is a crowd-pleaser for people tired of boring, monotonous Chardonnay. It will drink well for 6–8 years, yet decanting is recommended for earlier consumption.
